

Expose Yourself SPONSORSHIP

What value does your organization place on networking with hundreds of local athletes, their friends and family, and countless fans?

SUBLEAGUE.COM can help you establish a powerful presence with these consumers through sponsorship of our most popular events.

Sub League

The Submission Wrestling League (aka Sub League) made its debut in Portland in 2004. Drawing an average of more than 200 competitors and over 600 spectators at each of its three events every spring, Sub League has grown into one of the Northwest's largest no-gi grappling tournaments.

Sub League populates six competitor rings from 9 in the morning to around 4 in the afternoon. More than 1,200 matches take place throughout the season. The atmosphere is alive and exciting.

Your sponsorship goes directly toward athlete prizes; supporting the local high school wrestling team (facility fees go directly to their program); and in making the event even more dynamic, professional, and well publicized.

In turn, your brand will receive "air time" on subleague.com, printed programs, event t-shirts, on-site banners, and more.

Oregon Open

Since 2005, Oregon Open has been offering both gi and no-gi grappling competition to the Northwest's growing number of world class athletes with its single-day event.

On October 9, 2010, Oregon Open set new records with 590 competitors and approximately 1,750 spectators in attendance. This was the biggest event of its kind to date in the Northwest.

Your sponsorship will place your brand in front of hundreds of competitors on the day of the event and thousands of fans through our website, event t-shirt, promotional materials, and more. Sponsorship funds support the venue's high school wrestling team, competitor prizes, and event promotion.
